The process of implementing a website that takes the search engine bots to rank the site is time consuming process. Ready made site may have to be redesigned to conform to the search engines criteria. Regular process from design to implementation usually takes 6 months to have a site with satisfactory results in the keyword rankings.

Our design concept is a collaborative process between the client and designer. For best results, any information that pertains to the sites data may need to be changed or altered. Data base site may need changes to the URL if it includes ampersand, question marks and equal signs. this service is optional.
